ANDERSON® UNIVERSITY

Trojan Textbook Program

100% of required course materials provided.
Day one success.

Anderson University is launching an innovative new course materials program that provides all traditional undergraduate, non-traditional undergraduate, or ABSN students with all instructor-required textbooks and accompanying software included in the cost of tuition.

How it Works

- All traditional undergraduate, non-traditional undergraduate, or ABSN students are automatically enrolled in the program at time of registration.
- No need to order course materials - they are automatically provided.
- All instructor-required textbooks and accompanying software are delivered by the first day of class in various digital and print formats based on the instructor's adoptions.
- Physical books will need to be returned by the end of the semester.

Program Benefits

- All instructor-required textbooks and accompanying software included in tuition.
- Convenient & automatic access to digital materials on the first day of class through Canvas.
- Physical textbooks are delivered directly to campus for convenient pickup at AU Outfitters prior to the first day of class.
- Levels the cost of course material expenses for students.
